

I partnered with Kaneka.

This screenshot shows the GitHub repository page for BdotWALL / TeamworkAssignment. The repository is public and has 2 branches and 0 tags. The main branch is selected. The commit history shows a recent commit by kmmiller418 titled "Update readme with subheaders and image" 2 hours ago, with 3 commits. The README file is displayed, showing the title TeamworkAssignment, the tagline "Teamwork makes the dreamwork.", and a group announcement: "Group We Are Number One coming in hot with the GitHub collab." Below the text is a large black rectangular placeholder. The right sidebar contains sections for "About" (no description), "Releases" (no releases published), and "Packages" (no packages published).

This screenshot shows the same GitHub repository page, but with a pull request merged. The commit history now includes a merge pull request from BdotWALL/html-file 5 minutes ago, with 5 commits. The README file is still displayed, showing the same content as the previous screenshot. The right sidebar remains the same, with "About", "Releases", and "Packages" sections.